THE GROUP

Bormioli Rocco's first glassware factory dates back to 1825, but historians say the origins of Bormioli Rocco glass can be traced back to the Middle Ages.

Today, through investments over the years, Bormioli Rocco is no longer a single company, but a group of companies and multinational production units.

Present in Europe and the United States, Bormioli Rocco continues to expand as a brand leader in the Home and Restaurant market, and has become well-known for its glass containers business for cosmetic, pharmaceutical and food manufacturers.

MISSION

Our aim is to be the company of preference for retail and catering glassware. The products embody Italian design, leading the world for everyone who loves fine quality and style.
